

KIA & MIA 16 April 1945 Regensburg-Mariaort

Compiled by Rainer Ehm ©

Getötete britische und neuseeländische Kriegsgefangene beim US-Bombenangriff auf die Bahnbrücke Mariaort am 16. April 1945⁸⁶⁴:

- Amos, Brinley, 24, Gunner, Royal Artillery
- Buttle, George Edward, 34, Private, Durham Light Infantry
- Cartwright, Albert, 28, Lance Corporal, Royal Army Service Corps
- Chaplin, Arthur, 26, Gunner, Royal Artillery
- Collin, William Maltam, 25, Private, Gordon Highlanders
- Fisher, Ian Campbell, 24, Driver, Royal Army Service Corps
- Hardy, Wilfred Mylrea, 37, Serjeant, Royal Northumberland Fusiliers
- Higginson, Norman, 28, Gunner, Royal Artillery
- Hufton, Charles, 37, Driver, Royal Engineers
- Kirkby, Harold B., 27, Private, Oxford and Bucks Light Infantry
- Melrose, William, 25, Private, Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders
- Monopoli, Mariano, 28, Private, New Zealand Infantry
- Mooney, John, 26, Private, Black Watch (Royal Highlanders)
- Reid, James, (?), Private, Royal Army Medical Corps
- Robinson, John Edward, 26, Private, New Zealand Infantry
- Roche, Victor Charles David, (?), Driver, Royal Engineers
- Savage, John William, 23, Trooper, Royal Armoured Corps
- Somers, Arthur William, 27, Private, New Zealand Infantry
- Symington, Archibald, 27, Private, Royal Artillery
- Timbs, James William, 37, Driver, New Zealand Army Service Corps

Seit diesem Bombenangriff als vermisst und mutmaßlich als gefallen gelten⁸⁶⁵:

- Dalgetty, David Innes, 26, Private, Seaforth Highlanders
- Shields, James Dominic, 25, Gunner, Royal Artillery